

Ready for take off?

- The IT & Engineering team at Gill Jennings & Every LLP is looking for a Finals standard or newly qualified attorney
- The role suits applicants with a physics or electronic engineering background - although we're flexible about this
- Take the next steps in your career, learning alongside an experienced partner
- We're looking for a true collaborator- an engaging and multi-talented applicant who wishes to learn how to manage and support our world class list of clients
- Enjoy working with others in a relaxed and friendly team environment, including support from our industry-leading professional support team
- Get the practical experience you'll need to give commercial advice, lead client relationships and become a future business leader

- So if you're ready for take off, then there is a "First Officer" seat waiting for you at GJE's modern office in the City

We look forward to meeting you
