Electronics, Partnership Potential, London

Fast expanding, highly commercial firm that benefits from a trend defyingly successful 2009 and 2010. You will have a strong sense that providing high quality work is crucial and exhibit a disposition that lends itself to networking and client development. Given the growth plans of the practice they can offer a mixed portfolio of work and freedom to develop your career in the way you have imagined it to be. The firm's people exhibit a fresh attitude to business in the intellectual property sector, reflecting the necessities of a more competitive, commercial environment.

Electronics, Qualified, London

Bored by a mundane workload? Craving variety? This firm's recent and substantial dramatic increase in work ensures that they can offer new recruits a range unrivalled by many of their peers. In the medium term, the practice needs to increase the size of its partnership so opportunities for career advancement are abundant and achievable. Clients include global corporations, local direct work and a healthy mix of international and UK preparation and prosecution.

Nothing Fowl

Partner/Partner Designate, London

Technical discipline unimportant; potential to step into a highly demanding but definitely rewarding role a must. You will be someone with leadership potential and will have the flair and commercial instincts to develop a new kind of client offering. This would be an ideal role for Associates wishing to take the next step to Partner. Existing Partners of competing firms will also be considered with a small following to reflect the status required.

Biotechnology, Qualified, North West

Mix of direct local and international clients. A career structure that rewards performance not time served. A fair and progressive Equity ladder with an ever increasing monetary pot. A recession proof business that has been at the forefront of defining the way a UK firm of Patent Attorneys should operate in the 21st Century. Work with extremely high calibre individuals and with clients that are world leaders in their field.

Biotechnology, Qualified, London

Direct clients, international clients. Oppositions, original drafting, IP consultancy. A firm that appreciates the history of the patent profession but knows that it is essential that new business strategies are adopted to maximise the earning potential of a more connected world.

Chemist, Qualified, Yorkshire

A practice that has a close working relationship with many local companies and universities and is a focal point of entrepreneurial activity. Work within a highly experienced and professional team that have shown commercial know-how in order to maximise revenue during an economic downturn.

Biotechnology, Qualified, Midlands

Highly thought of firm with an excellent biotechnology practice wishes to expand by increasing its headcount. Benefit from a great deal of investment in firm infrastructure and a remuneration structure that is on a par with London private practices.

Electronics, Qualified, Midlands

This firm has a magnificent pedigree and an exciting and diverse client base. Wishing to capitalise on a recent upturn in workload, the partnership can offer a healthy variety of work from blue chip corporations to SMEs and private individuals as well as a reasonable balance between direct and agency work.

Electronics, Qualified, London

Prestigious, highly renowned practice with an exemplary recent track record of success despite economic circumstances. A financially rewarding role within a culture that promotes individuality and encourages new ideas. Clients include many household names with work at the technological cutting edge.

Trade Mark Attorney, Qualified, London

As a Trade Mark Attorney in a major law firm, in addition to the responsibilities one would expect you will gain broader experience within IP as a whole. The firm has an enviable international client base and a culture that prioritises a balance between work and life.

Biotechnology, Part Qualified, North West

Fantastic role for an Attorney wanting support and training to develop but at the same time hoping for a more interesting day via early responsibility. Be directly involved with clients, have an input on the development of the office and demonstrate your commercial acumen by shining at networking events. A role that could advance your career tremendously beyond that of your peer group.

Trade Mark Attorney, Home Counties

Be the second in command to a leading Trade Mark Partner and be helped to develop towards partnership yourself. Work with a fantastic array of clients but benefit from the encouragement and support of the firm to grow your own portfolio. Become a key contributor to the firm's success and make your mark on the IP community as a whole.
