

If it's out there,
we'll find it.

Featured Leadership Positions

Electronics, Qualified Patent Attorney, London

Create and build your portfolio with support from this highly reputable firm. Take control of the London practice by demonstrating leadership and a keen eye for new business opportunities. This is a superb chance to make your mark, develop your own client base and make it all the way to the top. Benefit from having a real influence on how the firm's London operation develops. The position would be ideal for an attorney who can fight their corner in negotiations, who relishes a commercial challenge and has the vision to drive a business forward via a healthy work ethic and a flair for creativity. The firm already has an excellent client base made up of high profile corporates, leading technology businesses and paradigm shifting SME's but they would like you to help them get more of this whilst enjoying the work they have already. With genuine career progression opportunities, now increasingly rare, can you afford to pass this one up?

Not Just Any Trade Mark Attorney

Potential chief, future leader. A newly created opportunity for a Trade Mark Attorney who knows what they're doing but feels they have a great deal more to give. Work for a firm that is well established, highly sophisticated and blessed with a tremendous amount of foresight (as their adept management through the recent global economic crisis has demonstrated). Be free! Yes, despite benefitting from existing work you can also develop your role in a way that suits your interests and builds on your relationships. Create an opportunity to make a name for yourself. Career progression is assured but with a high profile role such as this, so is career scope. Help further develop an already strong brand and be a significant part of its continued success. Our client is truly fantastic, we love recruiting for them. You'll love working for them.

Other Opportunities:

Qualified Patent Attorney, Electronics, Manchester - £Very Healthy

Work for a UK-wide private practice in a bustling city centre, sans the rat race. Growing exponentially, the Manchester office of this forward-thinking firm is teeming with activity and enthusiasm. There will be a fair amount of business development in this role, and good results will be rewarded with speedy career progression. But this doesn't mean that the environment is cut-throat, in fact it's quite the opposite: you'll find it friendly and stimulating.

Electronics Patent Attorney, Part Qualified, London - £Tremendous

Sophisticated private practice with excellent support for all its attorneys, and a big-name client base to boot. You will be exposed to a variety of work and held to high standards, which will allow you to cultivate your legal and technical knowledge to perfection, and to climb up the career ladder at lightning speed.

Newly/Recently Qualified Patent Attorney, Electronics, London - £60s

One of the UK's leading firms and one of the UK's leading electronics departments. Deal with the biggest names, the most exciting technologies; a cross section of innovation. The firm has an excellent support network and with a highly social peer group it is undoubtedly a fun place to work. They are aggressively expanding their electronics team due to an increase in volume of work.

Biotechnology, Qualified Patent Attorney, Manchester - £Excellent

Snap up the chance to work for this preeminent international private practice before someone else does! They boast a variety of interesting work, a spectacularly good reputation, high quality attorneys, and a supportive office culture. Be a key part of the strategic development of this office and as a fundamental driver in its success, benefit from a very nice reward.

Move to Yorkshire!

£As Good As (If Not Better Than) London, Lower Costs of Living

We have a number of vacancies across the Yorkshire region (particularly Sheffield and Leeds) for qualified patent attorneys of any technical discipline. The firms we are working with can offer excellent levels of remuneration (including some really attractive bonus schemes), excellent career progression, plentiful direct client work from universities, corporates, SME's and global businesses, exposure to contentious work and a career path that could be a little more dynamic than many a London firm. Relocation may be offered (but of course if you already live in the region we would like to hear from you too!).

Electronics Patent Attorney, Qualified, London - To £75,000

A thrilling role exists for a newly/recently qualified attorney to join this leading private practice. They have a foundation of sound commercial sense coupled with a fun cooperative environment and a diverse, interesting work load. They will support you to become a fully rounded attorney by exposing you to business development, consultancy and a control over your clients. Well known for their oppositions work, if that's what you lack in your recent experience then this firm will accommodate.

Qualified Patent Attorney, Electronics, London

£Have Your Cake and Eat It Too

Join the ranks of this well-established firm and your new, highly skilled colleagues will encourage you to get stuck into the busy workload and strive for personal and professional development at every turn. Growing steadily for the past decade, the momentum of this reputable private practice will have your career sail upstream smooth as can be.

Mechanical Patent Attorney, Qualified, London - To £70,000

Electronics electronics electronics... it's all we've been hearing lately. That is why we are elated to announce that there will be no electronics in this role! An ideal opportunity for the mechanical engineers among us to join a big name firm with some very interesting purely mechanical work. You'll have your hands full with a mix of work and a varied set of clients in this ever-growing private practice.

Qualified Patent Attorney, Chemistry, London - £60-80,000

Roll up your sleeves and dig into the hearty workload of direct clients. You will deal with a broad range of technical matters, and have the opportunity to accompany a client from the drafting of their patent application all the way to any contentious matters that may arise down the line. This well-reputed private practice will keep you on your toes and sharpen your commercial senses, and it harbours some serious progression opportunities for those who do well.

European Patent Attorney With a Difference, London

£Guaranteed work + support for the growth of your own practice

Put your diverse technical experience to work in this flexible position for an international firm of Patent and Trademark attorneys. The perfect combination of enterprise and security, this role will give you early responsibility, independence, and drive you to develop your own portfolio, while benefitting from an established workload and remote support from overseas colleagues. Provided you have a nice home office, there really are no down sides to this great opportunity!

For more information or to apply to any of these roles speak to Pete Fellows or Emma van Opstal on 020 7903 5019 or email: contact@fellowsandassociates.com.

You can also join us on LinkedIn: www.linkedininfellows.com
Visit our website: www.fellowsandassociates.com
Or follow us on Twitter: @FellowsandAssoc

Pete and Emma are also on INTA's My Powerful Network.

Fellows and Associates Ltd. acts as an agency within the meaning of the Conduct of Employment Agencies and Employment Businesses Regulations 2003. We operate a strict equal opportunities policy.