

Bohemian Patent Attorney Private Practice Seeking Two New Additions to Their Electronics Team.

Qualified Attorney, £80,000+ (Highly Attractive Bonus)
Part Qualified Attorney, £40-£45,000

- Cutting edge technology clients (we couldn't build a Robot Empire without it), the vast majority of which are direct
- Genuine Partnership Prospects (The Empire needs generals)
- Lots of contentious work (take the fight to Munich and beyond)
- A highly consultative approach with a great deal of fun encouraged too
- A genuinely collaborative environment that welcomes ideas from all levels
- Tentacles stretching across a wide section of technical innovation from telecommunications, innovation in computing hardware, programming (The Empire requires information from everywhere)
- Work like an in-house attorney in a private practice environment, solve problems and make decisions on intellectual property portfolios - have clients who you advise (rather than just being instructed by them)
- There is no other firm in London quite like this one, furthering the goals of the technological revolution or as we like to say 100010001111

The Robot Empire Needs You!

Our human masters (not for long) want us to mention that they are also recruiting for qualified and part qualified chemistry patent attorneys as well as biotechnology and mechanical. Move jobs before you get replaced by a cyborg.
